Who We Are

At Presidia Risk, we specialize in discreet, intelligence-led security solutions for HNW travelers, corporate executives, royal families, and luxury clientele. Our mission is simple: to provide seamless protection without disruption, ensuring that our clients can move freely and confidently anywhere in the world.

With a team drawn from elite military and intelligence backgrounds, we bring an unrivaled level of expertise, discretion, and strategic foresight to every engagement. We operate with a global reach, offering tailored security solutions that integrate seamlessly into the luxury lifestyle—whether it's private aviation, superyacht security, high-profile events, or secure ground transport.

Trusted by royal families, corporate leaders, and the world's most discerning travelers, we work closely with private jet operators, luxury travel agencies, and concierge services to deliver bespoke security solutions wherever they're needed.

At Presidia Risk, security is not just about protection—it's about foresight, discretion, and ensuring peace of mind for those who expect nothing less than excellence.

Close Protection For International Travelers

For HNW individuals, corporate executives, and royal families, international travel presents unique security challenges. At Presidia Risk, we provide discreet, intelligence-led close protection to ensure our clients can navigate any destination with confidence and peace of mind.

Our elite protection teams—drawn from military, intelligence, and special operations backgrounds—deliver a seamless security presence, adapting to the client's lifestyle while maintaining a low profile. Whether traveling for business, leisure, or high-profile events, we offer tailored protection strategies designed to anticipate threats before they arise.

With a global footprint, we operate in major cities, remote locations, and high-risk environments, ensuring our clients receive the highest level of security wherever they go. From airport arrivals to private residences, business meetings to leisure excursions, our specialists provide unobtrusive yet highly effective protection at all times.

At Presidia Risk, close protection is not about presence—it's about precision, intelligence, and ensuring our clients can move freely, without compromise.

Secure Luxury Transport

Seamless, secure, and sophisticated—Presidia Risk provides luxury transport solutions worldwide, ensuring our clients travel in comfort and absolute safety. Whether it's a business trip, private retreat, or high-profile event, we offer discreet, security-trained chauffeurs and elite vehicle options tailored to every need.

Our fleet includes armored and luxury vehicles, available globally, providing private airport transfers, secure city transport, and long-distance travel coordination. With vetted security drivers, our service goes beyond standard chauffeur offerings—integrating protective intelligence, route analysis, and contingency planning to mitigate risks before they arise.

We cater to private jet clients, executive travelers, and royal entourages, working seamlessly with luxury travel agencies, concierge firms, and event organizers to ensure flawless coordination. Whether navigating the streets of London, Dubai, New York, or Monaco, or requiring secure transport in remote regions, our team provides unmatched security, discretion, and efficiency.

At Presidia Risk, luxury transport isn't just about getting from point A to B—it's about arriving safely, comfortably, and without compromise.

Superyacht & Maritime Security

Luxury yachting offers the ultimate freedom, but maritime security risks require expert protection. At Presidia Risk, we provide discreet, intelligence-led security solutions for superyachts, private vessels, and high-profile maritime travel, ensuring our clients can enjoy the open seas with confidence.

Our security teams—comprised of elite military and maritime specialists—deliver onboard protection, threat detection, and risk mitigation across global waters. Whether cruising in the Mediterranean, Caribbean, or remote regions, we provide tailored security strategies that integrate seamlessly with yacht crew operations and guest experiences.

We work alongside yacht management firms, private captains, and UHNW clients to enhance onboard security while preserving the luxury experience. From port security assessments to discreet onboard protection, our approach ensures uncompromised safety without intrusion.

At Presidia Risk, maritime security isn't about visibility—it's about intelligence, discretion, and safeguarding every journey at sea.

VIP & Private Event Security

Exclusive events demand flawless security planning and execution. At Presidia Risk, we provide elite security solutions for high-profile gatherings, ensuring seamless protection without disrupting the luxury experience.

From red carpet galas and private celebrations to corporate events and diplomatic functions, our team designs and implements comprehensive security strategies. We assist with venue design, security planning, contingency measures, and crisis response protocols, ensuring every detail is covered.

Our high-end security staff manage event perimeters and access control, while our covert profiling teams discreetly identify potential threats, detecting unwanted guests or criminal behavior before they even enter the venue. Additionally, we provide specialist medical response teams, ensuring rapid assistance in case of emergencies.

At Presidia Risk, event security isn't just about presence—it's about precision, discretion, and creating a secure environment where VIP guests can enjoy absolute peace of mind.

Travel Security & Risk Advisory

Luxury travel should be effortless, but navigating global security risks requires expert preparation. At Presidia Risk, we provide intelligence-driven travel security and risk advisory, ensuring our clients can move safely and confidently across the world.

Our specialists conduct pre-travel security assessments, destination risk analysis, and itinerary planning, identifying potential threats before they arise.

Whether traveling for business, leisure, or high-profile engagements, we implement customized security measures, from secure ground transport to in-destination protection.

With a global intelligence network, we offer real-time risk updates, geopolitical assessments, and local security coordination. We work closely with private jet operators, luxury travel agencies, and concierge firms, ensuring every trip is seamless, secure, and stress-free.

At Presidia Risk, travel security isn't about reacting to risks—it's about anticipating them, ensuring our clients enjoy complete peace of mind wherever they go.

Why Choose Presidia Risk

At Presidia Risk, we don't just provide security—we deliver peace of mind, discretion, and intelligence-led protection for the world's most discerning travelers. Our approach is built on elite expertise, seamless integration, and global reach, ensuring that every client receives the highest level of security, wherever they go.

Our teams come from elite military, intelligence, and special operations backgrounds, bringing unparalleled precision, discretion, and adaptability to every engagement. Whether providing close protection, secure luxury transport, or event security, we operate with unrivaled professionalism and an unwavering commitment to client safety.

With a global presence and an extensive network of trusted partners, we offer security solutions tailored to the luxury lifestyle—working seamlessly with private aviation, superyacht services, and exclusive travel agencies. Our clients expect the best, and at Presidia Risk, we deliver nothing less.

At Presidia Risk, security isn't just about protection—it's about freedom, ensuring our clients can move, live, and experience the world without compromise.
